INFORMATION FOR VOLUNTEERS

We are pleased that you are interested in volunteering your services to the University of Alaska. Before you begin volunteering, the department dean or director must approve your volunteer service. If you are a minor (under age 18), you must also have the written approval of your parent or guardian.

A volunteer provides services without compensation for those services. A volunteer does not have an employment relationship with the University and receives no wages, salary or other compensation for services. A volunteer will not receive any reimbursement for expenses or other payment or benefit unless it is specified in a signed Volunteer Agreement. A volunteer is not eligible for any University employment benefits, including but not limited to vacation, sick leave, retirement, tuition benefits, disability insurance, health insurance or unemployment insurance.

Qualified volunteers are eligible for certain types of University of Alaska insurance protection. For information on this insurance, please go to the following links:
- Liability http://www.alaska.edu/risksafety/b_insurance/insurance-coverage/volunteer-services-and-li/
- Workers’ Compensation http://www.alaska.edu/risksafety/b_insurance/insurance-coverage/volunteer-services-and-wc/

Volunteer service is appreciated, but it does not give priority for University employment and volunteers should have no expectation of future employment. If volunteers subsequently obtain University employment, they will not be paid for any services that they provide before they receive a written appointment letter for employment.

Volunteers in some areas are subject to background checks.

Volunteers may not transport groups, students, minors, or non-UA affiliated persons on UA business or UA sponsored events and activities. Exceptions may be made only with prior written approval of Risk Management. Volunteers may be subject to a driving record and background checks.

Volunteers are not authorized to act in any way on behalf of the university in business matters, including purchasing property, signing contracts, leases or other agreements, hiring or supervising employees or otherwise attempting to bind the university to any agreement.

Everyone in the University community, including volunteers, is subject to University policies on safety and security; sexual harassment; drug and alcohol abuse; non-discrimination and equal opportunity, etc. Volunteers should familiarize themselves with other policies of the department in which they volunteer, such as policies on confidentiality of records, intellectual property, conflict of interest, etc.

Volunteers must comply with any ethical codes or similar standards of conduct applicable to the division of the University in which they provide volunteer services. For example, volunteers in the Department of Athletics are subject to applicable NCAA rules.
Volunteers must be a US citizen or otherwise eligible to work in the US unless they are performing a service that no one within the University of Alaska system is paid to do.

Volunteers are under no obligation to provide any services to the University and are free to discontinue their volunteer activities at any time. The University may terminate any volunteer relationship at any time without cause or prior notice and at its sole discretion.
